Mobile Work Planning

Application Process

Position Eligibility

- ✓ The position itself must be considered eligible for mobile work in order to apply. This information is included in the position description form and the supervisor assessment form.

Assessment

- ✓ Mobile work can offer benefits to the employee and to the OSOS, but it is not for everyone. Completing an assessment will help the employee and the supervisor determine if the employee is a strong candidate. Assessments are posted on the staff website. The process includes an employee assessment and a supervisor assessment.

Equipment

For security, all mobile workers must perform their duties in a remote environment on state-issued equipment. The standard equipment supplied to remote workers can include:

- ✓ Laptop
- ✓ Docking station
- ✓ VPN token
- ✓ Smart phone

The division must be able to provide and pay for this equipment in order for mobile work to be authorized.

If the employee requires ergonomic equipment to work in a remote environment and the division does not have the budget to provide it, mobile work may not be authorized.

Mobile Work Agreement

An annual agreement must be signed and reviewed as outlined on the next page.

Mobile Work Planning Agreements

Mobile Work Agreement

- ✓ A mobile work agreement must be completed. A new agreement should be revisited quarterly the first year. After the first year, it may be updated and re-signed annually. Signed mobile work agreements must be returned to HR to be stored in the employee's personnel file.

Weekly Mobile Work Logs (or as-needed)

- ✓ Weekly mobile work logs must be sent to supervisors to account for the time an employee was paid.
- ✓ If the employee is working remotely as needed, a log must be sent to account for the paid time.

Measureable Work

- ✓ Measureable work should be sent weekly and in some cases, more frequently. This is work that can be evaluated through metrics. Examples include: documents, spreadsheets, special reports, metrics, access to shared mailboxes and systems that allows supervisors to gauge progress, and substantive email responses.
